

Idea Checkpoint

Carter Allen

March 8, 2018

For this project I plan to look at the distribution of public parks in Miami-Dade county using data from the county's open data portal found here. My motivation for working with public parks data in for this project is my belief that public spaces are a cornerstone of a healthy society, as they promote both self reflection and community involvement. I have studied the importance of the natural parks system in the United States, and worked with national parks data for an analysis before.